

About the Author: Tracey Cramer-Kelly

Tracey lives surrounded by nature in a small Minnesota community with her husband, Tim, and their two young children (son, 8, and daughter, 4).

Her hobbies include music/singing, Taiko drumming and motorcycling (she's been a biker chick since she was 16; her current motorcycle is a Kawasaki Vulcan 900). She enjoys outdoor activities of all kinds (downhill skiing, cross-country skiing, water skiing, whitewater rafting, kayaking). She obtained her helicopter pilot license in 2001.

Tracey spends a good deal of her time managing the motorcycle accessories business she and Tim own, www.LeaderMotorcycle.com.

Her writing draws extensively from her experience as an Army Reserve paramedic and exposure to helicopter medevac.

Awards/Publications:

True Surrender, November 2011

Last Chance Rescue, Finalist, Romance category, 2009 Next Generation Indie Book Awards

Born Rescuer, Highly Commended, 2009 Tom Howard Short Story, Essay and Prose Contest

Essay published in Why We Ride, May 2009

Essay published in For Daddy with Love, May 2010

Essay published in Press Pause Moments, September 2010

Interviews:

Women's Outdoor Wire

Anoka Union, Blaine-Spring Lake Park Life and Coon Rapids Herald

Homefront Magazine

Rapid City Journal

Presentation/Speaking Topics:

Adventure Lifestyles for Women

Entrepreneurship in the Modern World (writer, performer, business owner, Leader Motorcycle Accessories)

Making the most of the Military Experience (as author and story teller)

Fulfilling Your Aspirations (Helicopter Pilot license, June 2001)

Medical Careers (Army National Guard EMT/paramedic, 1989-1993)

Contact:

Web site: <http://www.TraceyCramerKelly.com>

Email: <mailto:tracey@traceycramerkelly.com>

Daytime phone: 763.535.1440

